RUSSIANS SAY BODY FOUND IN BERLIN IDENTIFIED WITH FAIR CERTAINTY AS HITLER

Anniversary Of Invasion Is Quiet One

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Paris, June 6.—(P)—The first anniversary of the Allied landings on the Normandy beaches found the victorious Allies enjoying a holiday today in simple observance of the memorable date.
Just a year ago in the early morning darkness some 5,000 ships poured thousands of fully equipped men on the beaches of France. Overhead thousands of Allied planes dropped—some carrying airborne troops.
Today on these same beaches veterans of the invasion—the greatest military achievement in history—honored the memory of those who died as they battled for a hold in Hitler's European fortress.
In accord with Gen. Eisenhower's wishes in designating June 6 as a holiday for Allied soldiers, formal ceremonies generally were avoided.
At famous Omaha beach, where the First and 29th American Infantry Divisions stormed ashore a

One of Four Corpses Said To Answer Description Of the Missing Fuehrer

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG, JR.
Representing The Combined American Press
Berlin, June 6.—(P)—A high Russian military source said today a body found in Berlin had been identified with fair certainty as that of Adolf Hitler.
The body, smoke-blackened and charred, was one of four discovered in the ruins of the great underground fortress beneath the new Reich chancellery after the fall of Berlin. These four bodies, any one of which answered pretty well to Hitler's description, were removed and carefully examined by Russian army physicians.
All were badly burned from the flamethrowers with which the Red army soldiers finally cleared out the underground command post where Hitler and his leading Nazis made their last ditch stand.
After careful examination of teeth and other characteristics the Russians singled out one body which they believe almost certainly is that of the Nazi Fuehrer.
Asked why no official announcement of the discovery has been made yet by Moscow, this Russian source said that as long as any element of uncertainty exists the Russians do not wish to state definitely that Hitler's body has been found. The source added, however, that there seemed little doubt that this actually is the corpse of Hitler.
Examination of the body showed that the man almost certainly died of poisoning.
Whether this was self-administered there is no sure means of knowing. It will be recalled, however, that Russian sources recently reported that Hitler died of an injection given him by his physician, Dr. Morel, after he had been insane and half-paralyzed for several days.
Goebbels' own body was discovered by the Russians in the same underground shelter, together with those of his wife and children. All had died by poisoning.
The bodies of Goebbels and his family also were badly burned, but were identified by the Russians without too much difficulty.
The Russians have given no hint as to how the bodies of Hitler, Goebbels and other Nazis found in Berlin have been disposed of. This probably will remain a secret for all time to guard against the possibility of Nazi fanatics trying to recover the bodies.

D-Day Anniversary Is Proclaimed Holiday

London, June 6.—(P)—Just one year ago today American and British troops under Gen. Eisenhower hit the beaches of Normandy and launched the great assault that was to bring Germany to her knees within 11 months.
To mark the anniversary Gen. Eisenhower proclaimed today an army holiday, although no official ceremonies were scheduled.
A year ago this morning, a simple ceremony was held jointly by the Fifth and Sixth Engineer Special Brigades, two of the first units to land.
Only a comparatively few of the members of the brigades of a year ago were on hand though. Many have scattered to other outfits. Many got no farther than Omaha beach. The dead are buried at the brigade cemetery at St. Laurent, where a wreath was placed in their memory.
The American flag was raised at noon over what is believed to be the first pillbox captured by the Allies.
All military establishments throughout the European theatre were on Sunday schedules, with only skeleton staffs on duty.

Enemy Near Last Stand on Mindanao

By FRED HAMPSON
Manila, June 6.—(P)—Japanese forces on Mindanao thrown back from all useful areas of the island, may have to make their last stand in the mountains east of the Sayre highway and west of Davao.
The choice of battleground essentially is not theirs, reported Associated Press' Richard Bergholz from Eighth Army Headquarters.
The harassed Japanese have been hurled from their prepared positions and are being given the "squeeze play" by two veteran divisions—the 24th commanded by Maj. Gen. R. B. Woodruff and the 31st commanded by Maj. Gen. Clarence Martin.
In northeastern Luzon, another hot Philippine battleground, Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler's Buckeye (37th) Division is crowding on toward Bayombong on highway five after capturing the key road junction town of Arifao in the Cagayan valley.

Truck Crashes Trolley

Pittsburgh, June 6.—(P)—Seven persons were injured at a downtown intersection here today when a trailer truck crashed into a trolley street car and burst into flames. Police said the motorist, Wilbert I. Collett, 31, of McKees Rocks, was taken to Mercy Hospital where his right foot was amputated. Five street car passengers were treated for minor injuries and released.

Another of Warren's firms that has done a great part in the winning of the war and which is keeping up its good work now that the spearhead of the attack has been turned on Japan has been awarded the Army-Navy "E" for excellence of production. This is the Thomas Flexible Coupling Company which was one of 27 firms in the nation to whom the award was made today. Advises that the Warren firm had been honored were received by wire this morning from Washington.
The Thomas Flexible Coupling Company has been engaged in turning out couplings that were

Army Plane With 18 WACs Missing

Washington, June 6.—(P)—An army transport plane carrying 18 WACs and a crew of three has been missing for a week on a 766-mile flight in Africa, the War Department announced today.
The plane left Accra, British West Africa, on a flight to Roberts Field in Liberia on May 30 and was last reported over Takoradi, British West Africa, about 150 miles west of Accra.
The WACs, members of a group assigned to the Army Transport Command base at Accra since last October, were being transferred to a new assignment.
Airplanes and surface craft have undertaken a widespread search for the missing plane along the French Ivory coast, between British West Africa and Liberia.

CITY HALL CLOCK STOLEN

Harrisburg, June 5.—(P)—Police Chief Oscar L. Blough has the entire police force—100 patrolmen and nine city detectives—detailed to find a stolen clock. The large electric time piece was taken off a wall in city hall directly across the corridor from police headquarters.

Running Cafeteria Causes Breakdown

Pittsburgh, June 6.—(P)—Trying to run a cafeteria in these days of food shortage gave Clarence E. Hilliard a nervous breakdown so he's quitting the business until September.
"I figured it was better to walk out than be carried out," said Hilliard as he looked up his eating place in the Wabash building.
"I just couldn't get meats of any kind to supply the 750 to 900 customers who came in daily," he said. "That, and efforts to obtain employees brought about a nervous condition and a break in health that just wasn't worth while."
He had been running the cafeteria since 1929.

Dispute Over FEPC Causes Major Row

Washington, June 6.—(P)—President Truman ran into his first major row with congress today, chiefly with members of his own party.
Key southern Democrats flatly refused to head his plea for favorable action on legislation to create a permanent Fair Employment Practices Committee. Several predicted a sharp rebuff for the chief executive on the issue.
Mr. Truman made his request yesterday in a letter to Chairman Sabath (D-Ill.) of the house rules committee, where the legislation has been bottled up for four months.
Sabath promptly told newsmen he would seek a vote on the issue at a scheduled meeting of the group today. He said the committee will meet first in open session, consider other bills and then will close its doors.
While saying he was "hopeful" (Turn to Page Nine)

Chinese Occupy Kwangsi Junction

Chungking, June 6.—(P)—Reports from American sources said Chinese troops today occupied Luichow, Kwangsi province rail junction and site of a former U. S. air base.
Earlier, Gen. Yang Sen, governor of Kweichow province, announced the re-winning of the city, but there was no official army confirmation.
Another unconfirmed report said Chinese spearheads were only 10 miles from the West river inland port of Wuchow, 120 miles west of Canton, through which the Japanese funneled into Kwangsi province from Kwangtung last year. This report also said the Japanese were preparing to evacuate Wuchow.
In Honan province, Chinese planes inflicted 400 casualties on Japanese reinforcements moving toward Hsihsiaokow, while in Shanxi province three spans of bridges on the Tatum-Puchow railroad were damaged.

60,000 To Lose Draft Deferrals

Washington, June 6.—(P)—Sixty thousand currently "irreplaceable" industrial workers 26 through 29 stand to lose their draft deferments by fall, government officials estimated today.
Munitions cutbacks and diminished urgency of other war supporting activities will reduce by at least 17 per cent the total of 350,000 key men of that age now occupationally deferred, said these officials. They are familiar with a preliminary manpower survey, but asked that their names be withheld.
The survey is being made by the government's Inter-Agency Deferment Committee in line with Selective Service's new policy of meeting calls from the ranks of men under 30.
This committee, headed by War Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt, was set up early this year to protect what was described as a "hard core" of irreplaceable industrial workers 26 through 29.
Most registrants who qualified were given six-month deferments beginning in March or April.

Urgent Talks On Veto Under Way

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Diplomatic News Editor
San Francisco, June 6.—(P)—Urgent talks seeking to avoid a permanent big-five split over the veto issue are reported underway today in both Moscow and San Francisco. Premier Stalin is said to be reviewing Soviet insistence on the right to veto even discussion in a World Security Council.
President Truman's personal emissary, Harry Hopkins, is handling the negotiations in the Russian capital. Secretary of State Stettinius, as chief United States delegate to the United Nations conference, is holding conferences on the subject here with Soviet Ambassador Andrei Gromyko.
American officials hope for an answer, which must come initially from Stalin, by this week-end, at the very latest.

WINCHELL "SCOOPED"

New York, June 6.—(P)—Wald Winchell, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Winchell, today had a husband and a "scoop" over her columnist father. Miss Winchell, who is appearing in the Broadway show, "Dark of the Moon," under the stage name, Toni Eden, eloped yesterday to West New York, N. J., with William Lawless, 29-year-old Cambridge, Mass., scenic design student.

ANXIETY OVER ABRUPT END OF PARLEY

Hint That Site of Next "Big Three" Meeting Already Has Been Set Is Given In Commons

CONCERN OVER AUSTRIA

By JAMES F. KING
London, June 6.—(P)—A hint that the site of the next "Big Three" parley already had been set was given commons today, as one report that the first meeting of the delegates to the Allied Control Council in Berlin had "ended abruptly" created new anxiety here.
Without elaboration, Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir John Anderson told commons today there was "no chance" that the Big Three would meet in London, leaving the suggestion that a site had been selected.
Meanwhile, fresh concern arises over the situation in Austria.
Gen. Eisenhower and Field Marshal Montgomery left soon after the Berlin meeting without attending a Russian banquet, saying they had to return to their headquarters yesterday evening.
The first brief Berlin meeting of United States, British, Russian and French delegates left unsettled details concerning the organization of the Allied Control Council and how it will govern Germany.
Dispatches from Berlin disclosed that Gen. Eisenhower had left Berlin last night to return to his headquarters at Frankfurt after signing a joint declaration announcing the assumption of supreme authority in the Reich by the four victorious powers.
While it was agreed that further meetings of the council should be held at an early date, the dispatches said, no specific time or place was set.
The meeting was cut short, however, correspondents said, when the American, British and French representatives learned that Marshal Gregory Zhukov, Soviet member of the council, had no instructions from his government to carry on further discussions until the withdrawal of American and British troops from the zone to be occupied by Russian forces is completed.
The correspondents disclosed that the signing of the four-power declaration—a ceremony which required only 25 minutes—was held up approximately six hours when the Russians unexpectedly interposed last minute objections to article 10 of the 2,500-word document, which Soviet representatives previously had read and approved in London.
This article, which the Russians apparently believed might be construed by the Japanese as a breach of neutrality, reads:
"The forces, nationals, ships, aircraft, military equipment and other property in Germany, or in German control or service or in German disposal, of any other country at war with any of the Allies, will be subject to the provisions of the declaration and of any proclamations, orders, ordinances or instructions issued thereunder."
If the Russians agreed to this article, it was pointed out, a strict interpretation would require them to seize Japanese persons and property in the Soviet Union, although Russia is not at war with Japan.

Greenville Is Considered As Hospital Site

Washington, June 6.—(P)—Use of Camp Reynolds at Greenville, Pa., as the site for a 1,800-bed neuro-psychiatric veterans hospital hinges on negotiations between the Veterans Administration and the war department.
Col. L. H. Tripp, director of construction for the Veterans Administration, told a reporter today the VA prefers the Greenville site, although the agency now has a survey engineer touring central and western Pennsylvania for "substitute" locations.
The Veterans Administration said it prefers Camp Reynolds to any other site because the government owns the land, utilities are already constructed, and erection of the hospital can begin speedily.
Also, many camp buildings could be used for hospital recreational facilities, Tripp explained.
Meanwhile, the VA went ahead with plans to take over a 13-acre site in and adjoining the University of Pittsburgh campus for a 1,200-bed general medical and surgical hospital which may be expanded by another 263 beds.

BULLETINS

Pittsburgh, June 6.—(P)—Threat of a shutdown of the entire Pittsburgh Works of Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp. was headed off at noon today when trainmen ended a work suspension on the company's Monongahela connecting railroad.

Washington, Pa., June 6.—(P)—Three persons burned to death today in a fire of unknown origin which roared throughout a two-story frame apartment house, leaving four families homeless.

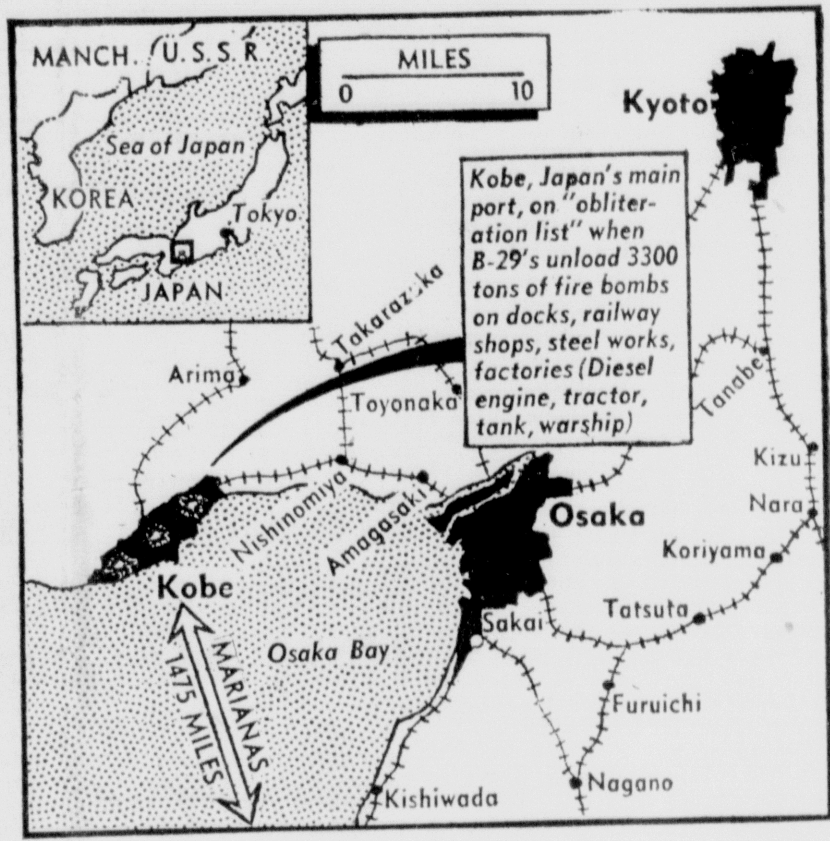

Harrisburg, June 5.—(P)—Governor Martin praised the work of Dr. A. H. Stewart, state secretary of health today and said he had no intention of removing him from office as requested by the U. S. Civil Service Commission.

Titusville, June 6.—(P)—A petition signed by 136 Titusville residents asked city council last night to take "immediate steps" to abate a smoke nuisance which they say is created by the large refinery of the Pennsylvania Refining Co. here.

Kobe Seared in Latest B-29 Strike

The systematic destruction of Japan's key industrial cities by B-29 Superfortresses continued as Kobe, the enemy's greatest seaport, was set aflame from end to end by 3300 tons of fire bombs. Returning pilots said smoke rose to a height of 25,000 feet as bombs found key targets.

Jap Beheader Wields Sword As Woman Pleads For Lives

By RICHARD BERGHOLZ

Hollo, Panay, June 5.—(Delayed)—(P)—Mrs. Charma Covell, her hands tied behind her, pleaded with the Japanese Captain Kunoyi Watanabe, as he prepared to wield his samurai sword.
"Why will you kill us all?" she asked. "We are Christian missionaries."
The imperturbable officer, surrounded by Japanese soldiers, said nothing.
Eleven times that day at that spot Watanabe's sword fell. Eleven Americans were beheaded. In another house, the same fate befell five others. Three small American boys were killed by Japanese bayonets.
Then fires were set in an effort to blot out the crime.
Six of the victims were women. Eleven of those killed were Baptist missionaries.
The story of the tragedy, which occurred at Hopevale—"The Valley of Hope"—Dec. 20, 1943, just has been released. It was pieced together from accounts including that of Paterno H. Enano, 25, who witnessed the executions and later became a Filipino guerrilla.
Enano, a former student of the Central Philippine College, heard Mrs. Covell make her fruitless plea. Then he turned his head as Watanabe's sword fell.

Mrs. Covell, mentioned in this Associated Press dispatch, was one of the group listed in the story printed last Friday in The Times-Mirror telling of the execution of Miss Signe A. Erickson, former teacher from Warren.

Enano said Captain Watanabe was solely responsible for the slaughter.
A Japanese force of 500 left the township of Libacao in Capiz province Dec. 18, 1943. On the way to Jolo, Lt. Robert King of the U. S. Army and two unidentified engineers, later to be numbered among those beheaded, were seized.

A Filipino, threatened with death, disclosed the location of an American hideout in the "Valley of Hope."
During Sunday services, 250 Japanese soldiers surrounded the camp. Watanabe and a picked group of his men seized the 16 Americans.

TOKYO ADMITS ISLAND LOST IN RENEWING WARNING THAT INVASION LOOMS IMMINENT

Admiral Nimitz, In Daily Communique, Fails To Mention Ground Action, Reporting Only Air Strikes In Jap Home Waters

ANNOUNCEMENT OF MAJOR IMPORT EXPECTED

By HAMILTON FARON

Guam, June 6.—(P)—Japanese admitted today American invaders have reduced Okinawa to an "isolated island" and warned an invasion of Japan was "imminent."
The virtual admission that Okinawa was lost came as an unexpected American silence indicated a possible end of the campaign and the semi-official Domei News Agency claimed "fierce fighting" raged between the U. S. Tenth Army and Japanese "firmly entrenched in new positions."
Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, in his daily communique, failed even to mention ground action on the island, reporting only United States air strikes into Japanese home waters.

Underground Defense Plan For Jap Cities

Such news blackouts in the past often have preceded announcement of developments of major importance, such as conclusions of campaigns or the launching of new invasions.
Japan's invasion consciousness was sharpened further by a plea for its citizens to emulate the children of Aka Jima, who died in hand grenade "banzai" charges against American troops, and by radio Tokyo's claim the Japanese mainland has been converted into "an impregnable fortress."
A "new kind of underground warfare now being prepared by the Japanese is so different from anything used in Europe it will mark a new epoch in military history," Tokyo said.
Domei acknowledged the Japanese were meeting "numerically superior" American forces on Okinawa and reported the landing of Marines on Oroku peninsula below Naha, which Admiral Nimitz disclosed yesterday. The landing force was reported by the Japanese to include 100 tanks and "400 to 500 infantry reinforcements."

Only mention of Okinawa in Nimitz communique was that adverse weather prevented enemy air activity Monday, the day Domei said the torpedo bomber attack was carried out. The attack was pressed home, Domei said, by pilots braving "inclement weather."

Nimitz told of American bomber strikes, part of the tightening blockade on Japanese shipping. Privateers of fleet air wing one exploded a large oil tanker, sank three cargo ships and damaged a sail freighter in vital waters between Asia and Japan.

On rain-swept Okinawa the last reports of American progress put the Yanks on half of Naha, air-drome, biggest in the Ryukyu chain. To the east, they were pushing relentlessly toward the southern tip of the island. Only 1/12th of Okinawa remained in enemy hands.

(Turn to Page Nine)

The immediate concern of the division, Domei said, will be centered principally in Tokyo, Yokohama, Osaka and Kobe, "where raids have been heavy of late and damages have been considerable." The emperor's military command, which has been trying unsuccessfully for a year to halt the big bombers, yesterday used Baika rocket bombs over Kobe in a frantic effort at interception.

Eight Superfortresses were lost. At least one of these was rammed over Kobe, the 21st Bomber Command said.

Pilots reported that Japanese fighters strafed crewmen parachuting from one crippled Superfort.

Dense concentrations of fire bombs set raging fires throughout Kobe's industrial areas. A lack of ground winds at the target, however, apparently prevented fires from spreading as in other raided leading Japanese cities. Kobe is Japan's sixth largest city and its most important seaport.

HOSPITAL TRANSFER HOTLY CRITICIZED

Harrisburg, June 6.—(P)—Sen. Joseph M. Barr (D-Allegheny) says Governor Martin's veto of a bill transferring operation of the Pittsburgh tuberculosis hospital to the state discriminated against Pittsburgh "for political purposes."
The chief executive's rejection of the bill, Barr said in a statement last night was "one of the most obvious political vetoes that has ever been printed."

Schools Over Top In Bonds - Stamps

Reports from individual buildings turned in to the office of John G. Rossman, superintendent of Warren public schools, reveal that the school system went over the top in its goal of $100,000 in war bonds and stamps for the September to June term.

In fact, the goal has been over-subscribed by the sum of $8,815.27. This total amount was reached on Tuesday, when the grand total was still short by more than $4,000. Much credit must be extended equally to pupils, faculty, administrative and janitorial branches, since all have contributed to this very fine showing.

Figures for June 5 and for the full term, by buildings, are as follows:
High, $303.90—$15,493.30; Beatty $590.90—$26,367.25; East, $8,998.25 (total of $4,150 for May 15, $4,525.80 for May 31 and $322.45 for June 5)—$25,957; Home, $239.10 (100 per cent this week)—$6,732.85; Johnson, $1,070.64—$9,802.19; Lacy, $387.85—$9,094.53; McClellan, $140.05—$2,795.45; Seneca, $264.35 (100 per cent for second semester)—$3,696.50; South, $1,448.40 (100 per cent in 5th grade all year)—$8,876.15; totals, $13,452.44—$108,815.27.

There are 119 girls in this year's graduating class and 104 boys. Of the latter, the following have already left for service:

Two Dead In Rail Crash at Tarentum

Tarentum, June 6.—(P)—Two trainmen were killed and two others seriously injured when two Pennsylvania Railroad freight trains collided south of here today.

One locomotive turned over and 18 freight cars were derailed, blocking tracks at the scene. Passengers were rerouted by buses and by trains on the east side of the Allegheny river.

The coroner identified the dead as C. E. Compton, of Wilkensburg, and C. J. Walker, of Pittsburgh, engineer and fireman respectively on one train, eastbound.

The Allegheny hospital here reported the injured were C. J. Yeagley, 45, a fireman, and A. C. Dundon, 42, special duty engineer, both of Pittsburgh.

Trainmen blamed a dense fog for the collision.

Real Reunion At Dove Home This Evening

Sgt. William R. Dove, prisoner of war in Stalag 7-A, Moosburg, Germany, from October 17, 1944, until he was released by the 14th Armored Division of the Seventh Army on April 29, 1945, called his family last night to say that he was in Trenton, N. J., and would be in Warren this evening.

Sgt. Dove, husband of Ruth Olson Dove, 103 Parker street, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion B. Dove, 507 West street, was taken prisoner near Bologna, Italy, in an infantry assault. He expects to be home for 60-day furlough, after which he will go to an army hospital for removal of a bullet in his arm, received when he was machine-gunned while being taken prisoner. After that he will spend some time in a southern rest camp.

The Dove home will be the scene of a real reunion, since his two sisters, Neva Dove Agnew, petty officer second class, and Marion, seaman first class, both of the Coast Guard Women's Reserve in New York, will be home for part of his furlough. SPAN Neva is arriving for 15-day leave and Seaman Marion will come Monday for ten days at home. Both girls enlisted in the Spars on May 18, Neva in 1943 and Marion in 1944.

It is understood, also, that two other Warren soldiers will arrive tonight with Sgt. Dove. They are Michael Hudock and Sammy Scalise, both taken prisoner in North Africa.

Flight Officer Donald L. Blair, serving with the Air Forces in England when he was taken prisoner on January 21, 1945, and released in Germany on April 29, has arrived to spend a leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Blair, Clarendon.

Wyoming Election Goes Democratic

Helena, Mont., June 6.—(P)—Republicans thrust an opening wedge into Montana's traditionally Democratic second congressional district today, and party members throughout the land looked to the 1946 elections with renewed hope.

Wesley A. DeWart, state senator and rancher of Wilsall, defeated Democratic Rep. Leo C. Craybill, Great Falls attorney, to fill the vacancy left by the death in Washington last January 14 of Rep. James F. O'Connor, Livingston Democrat.

It was the first balloting for a national position since the November general elections and the first since President Truman assumed office. It was viewed as of national significance by party leaders.

Services in her memory will be held from the Peterson Funeral Home at two o'clock Friday afternoon, conducted by Rev. C. L. Wessman, pastor of Calvary Baptist church, and followed by interment in Oakland cemetery.

IN MEMORIAM
Mrs. Emma Amann—In sad and loving memory of our dear Mother, Mrs. Emma Amann who passed away two years ago today, June 6th, 1945.

The moon and stars are shining upon a lonely grave, where sleeps our loving Mother. We loved but could not save. We often sit and think of you and speak of how you died. To think you could not say goodbye, before you closed your eyes. For all of us you did your best. May God grant you eternal rest. Daughters and Son-in-Law. 6-6-11.

ACCEPTS POSITION

Harold Michel, formerly of Sheffield, who has for the past several years held a post on the editorial staff of the Erie Dispatch-Herald, has resigned as of June 9 to accept a position as news editor of Station WERC.

THE STATE POLICE SAY:

The motor laws require that upon the approach of police or fire department vehicles or ambulances, giving audible signal, you must drive your automobile as near the right-hand edge of the highway as possible and to remain there until the police or fire department vehicle or ambulance has passed. Many motorists fail to clear the highway for these vehicles. It is also illegal to follow any fire apparatus in response to a fire alarm closer than 500 feet, or to park within 500 feet of any fire apparatus at the scene of a fire.

GRADUATES TODAY

Harry W. Schmidt, Market street, is in Wayne, Pa., today to attend the sixth wartime commencement of the Valley Forge Military Institute, where his son, Cadet Copeland Hanna Schmidt, was graduated this morning. Cadet Schmidt was graduated with excellent scholastic and military marks. He was secretary of the senior class and a member of the staff of the student newspaper. During his last year he was the winner of the Dunaway Debate Medal, a member of the swimming team, and an officer in the Anthony Wayne Legion Guard, honor company of the corps of cadets. He was graduated as cadet captain and commandant of "B" Company.

RAFTSMEN TO MEET

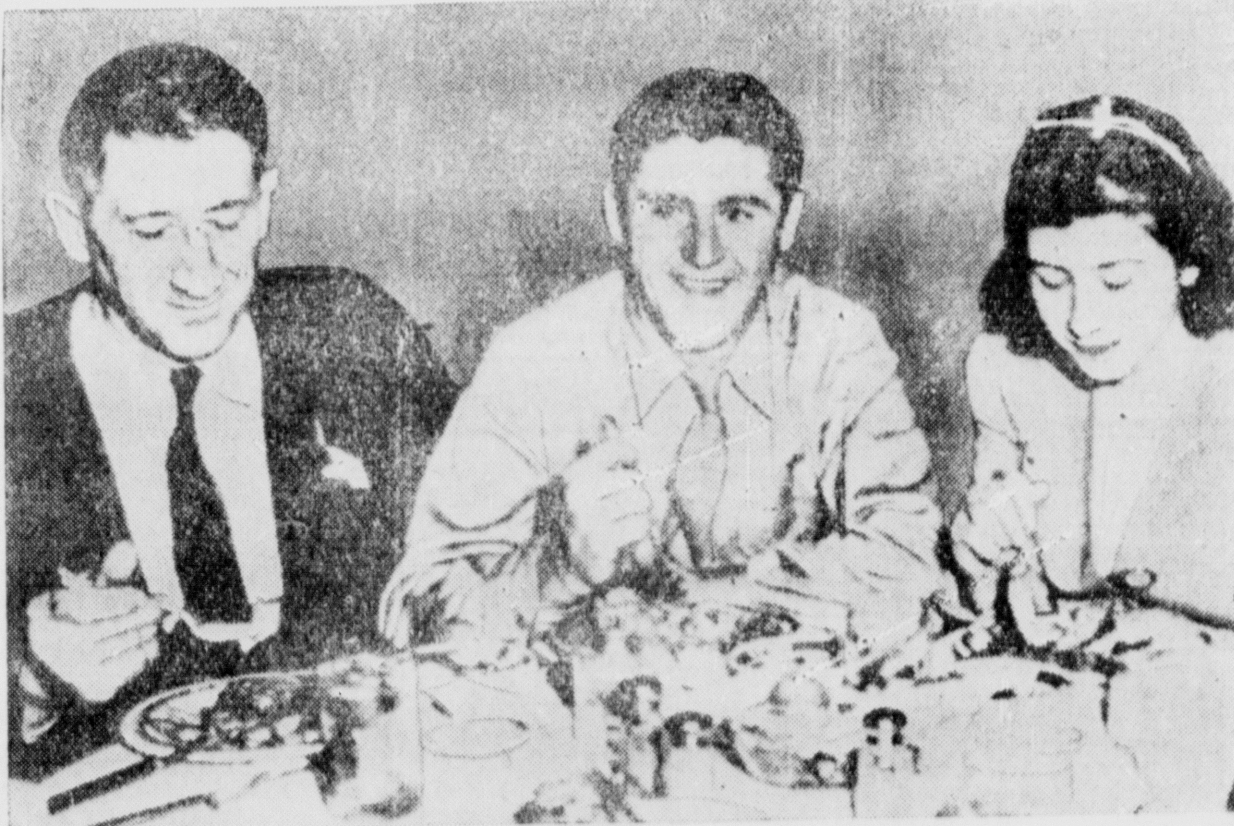

H. L. Carson, of Clarion, who is president of the Northwestern Pennsylvania Raftsmen's Association, announces that rivermen of the Red Bank Creek will be hosts to the association this year when the annual picnic is held at the Brookville Fair Grounds on Saturday, June 23. As has been the custom for several seasons, the gathering will be an all-day affair with a family basket picnic at noon. The program will include a business session, memorial service, selections by old time musicians and a few good but brief speeches. Folks are requested to send to secretary George Sheffer, Clarion, names of any members who have died since the last memorial service was held.

To the People of this Community

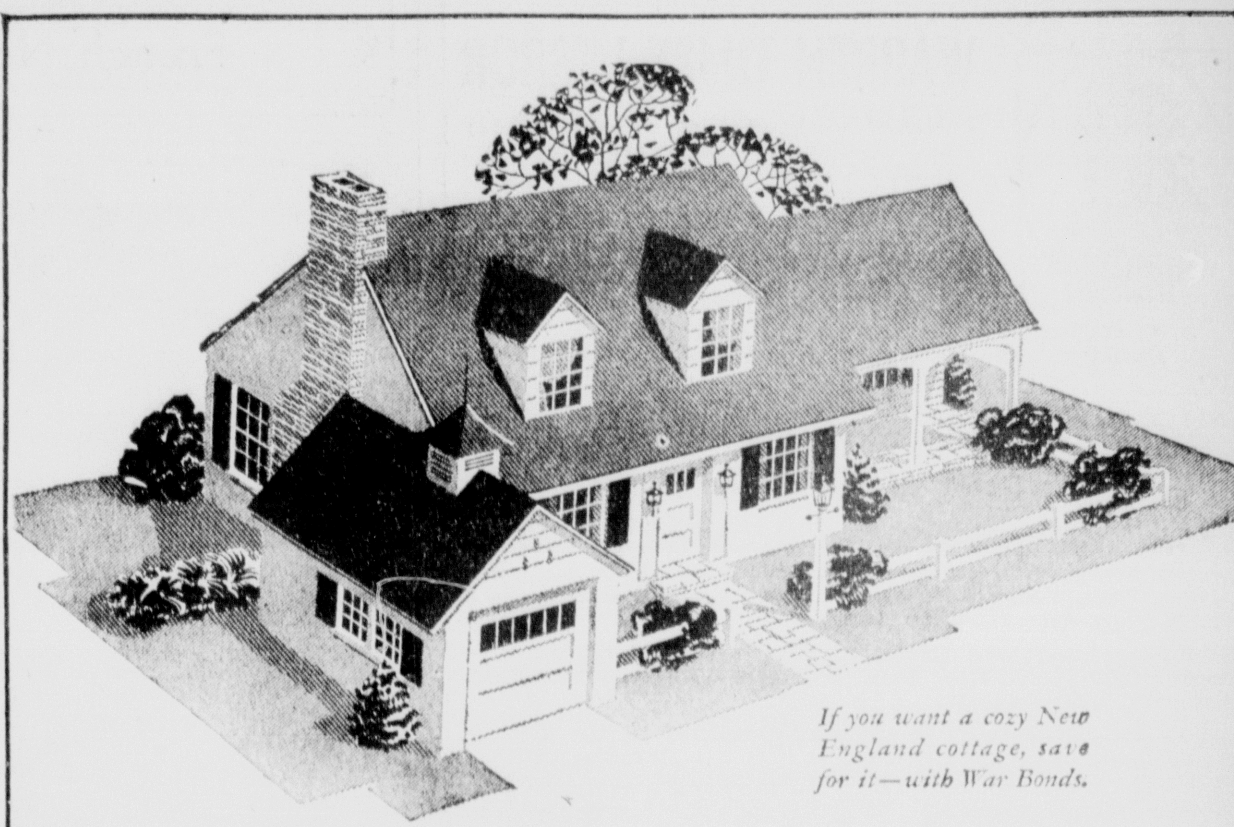

Usually when you seek a war comparison you think of the man in the foxhole, and not without justification, because our men are doing the dying. However, millions of women now helping to build planes, ships, load shells and bombs could well dedicate their extra bond purchases to our women at war. WACs and nurses are working side by side with combat troops. Nearly all have lived in tents without floors at some time, taken showers out of helmets, eaten monotonous food and endured severe weather. Some died from enemy fire. It is fitting that the person who probably will contact you to buy the most extra bonds you've ever bought in a war loan will be a woman volunteer. Women have a tremendous stake in this war and War Bonds. They have good reason to want the biggest stock of War Bonds in every home in this community because 10 years hence this stock will pay off in personal health and happiness. Be ready for your War Bond saleswoman when she calls.

THE PORT OF WARREN

By H. C. PUTNAM

May 2, 1837—NAVIGATION OF THE ALLEGHENY RIVER—The steamboat New Castle (as our readers were informed) left here last week for Franklin, Venango County, and returned yesterday. We are pleased to learn from Captain Leech, her urbane and gentlemanly Commander, that the fullest expectations of her enterprising owners have been more than realized in the trip just made. She had a full load of passengers and freight on going up, and brought down a number of passengers without encountering any impediment or obstruction whatever. The practicability of navigating the Allegheny with steamboats, as far as Franklin at least, is now fully tested—Pittsburgh Times.

NOTE: The steamer New Castle also made trips to Warren in 1837, and on one trip reached Olean. She was the second and last steamer to reach the latter point, passage to which was obstructed, except in very high water, by numerous mill dams, the first of which was at Hook's Mill, now Wardwell.

May 1, 1838—STEAM BOAT ARRIVAL—The Steam Boat Pulaski arrived here last evening from Pittsburgh.

Mar. 30, 1841—FRANKLIN BRIDGE—We are informed that a Steam Boat, engaged for this place ascended the river as far as Franklin Bridge last week, and after an effort of half a day to pass it, was obliged to give up the attempt. Thus whilst the river is in the finest order for the passage of steamers of large tonnage, we are cut off from the benefits of having out goods brought to us in that way, by that villainous obstruction, which the proprietors were informed by the builder at the time would be such if not raised higher. Down with it, say we, let not another Court pass without an indictment.

April 16, 1841—The steamboat BEAVER, Capt. Day, arrived in Warren yesterday from Pittsburgh with loading for this place. She left again for Pittsburgh, only making a stop of a few hours. This is the first boat that has reached this place this spring owing to the Franklin bridge being too low for boats to pass under when the water is high.

April 8, 1842—STEAM BOAT ARRIVAL—The light draught Steamboat WARREN, Capt. Hull, arrived here on Tuesday morning last, laden with merchandise for this place. It is the second boat which has arrived here this spring and we understand that two or three others are now on their way, and will probably arrive soon.

Today (Friday) the WARREN arrived here again from Franklin. We understand that it is the intention of the owners to run her regularly between this place and Franklin.

Apr. 15, 1842—ANOTHER STEAMBOAT ARRIVAL—The Steam Boat Kittanning arrived here on Saturday last, laden with wheat and merchandise for this place and vicinity.

ITEMS FROM THE "ALLEGHENY MAIL," "MAIL" & "LEADER."

Sept. 5, 1848—The Keelboat "Magnolia" arrived with divers articles of freight and it was announced that a light draft steamboat was building for the Pittsburgh-Warren trade.

October 17, 1848—The Keelboat "Fame" arrived with 8 tons of iron for S. J. Page (who had a blacksmith shop on the south side of Water St. (Pa. Ave.) about half way between Market and Liberty, about on the site of the first building in Warren, the store house of the Holland Land Co., built in 1796).

Dec. 19, 1848—The Steamboat WAVE made two trips to our place from Pittsburgh last week, bringing 250 bbls of flour, a quantity of pig iron and a considerable amount of other freight to this and places below. About 50 passengers also came up on her last trip.

Jan. 2, 1849—The Steamer WAVE, Wm. Gordon, Master, made another trip to our place last week, laden with flour, iron and a considerable number of passengers. Success to the Wave, say we, and her energetic proprietors. If she can run from Pittsburgh to the extent of steam navigation on the Allegheny, BY SLEIGHING, she will deserve, as she will doubtless receive, a liberal share of public patronage.

March 13, 1849—CARVER HOUSE—This splendid new hotel is now open for the accommodation of the public. We learn, from those who know, that the accommodations are excellent. Its gentlemanly landlord, J. H. Hull, Esq., is prompt in his attention to the wants and wishes of his customers.

We note that two ice boats are being loaded here for the southern market. A Cold speculation that.

Mar. 20, 1849—Our town is again astir with the busy hum of rafting time. The river is in a fine stage and the lumber and the lumbermen come briskly. Up to Monday they were mostly from the Conewango, but since that time

LONG DISTANCE

It's still a big part of the war picture

"Getting things done 'til the war is won" is still the big job of Long Distance.

WAR BONDS AND FATHER'S DAY

June may seem, at first glance, to be an inappropriate time to be talking about Christmas.

But something happened last Christmas which needs reporting again in view of the imminence of Father's Day.

In a certain big city, newspapers polled all the department store Santa Clauses to find out what children sought most as a gift.

The top request was:

"Send daddy home from overseas."

Sentimentalists undoubtedly did, and probably will, squeeze a tear out of this story.

But you would be more helpful to Santa by buying extra war bonds.

Sentiment and tears have their place—but when you buy extra war bonds, you really are working on the transportation problem.

You'd search far before you'd find a better way to observe Father's Day than in the buying of extra war bonds in the Seventh War Loan.

Our congratulations to the 223 seniors of the Warren High School who receive diplomas in the commencement exercises at eight o'clock this evening in the First Presbyterian church, also to the 24 who received pins during Tuesday night's senior week concert at Beaty school.

June marriage licenses will prove that the peach crop is not a failure.

One Year After D-Day

Then Home!

It's just a year since the wires flashed the electrifying news that the long-awaited D-Day had arrived, with Allied forces storming the Normandy bastions of Hitler's Fortress Europe. It took less than that year to achieve V-E Day—when the German Army was ground into unconditional surrender. To thousands of Yanks, V-E Day meant a return home—permanently for some, temporarily for others, destined to carry on the fight against Japan.

Plans for Annual Camporee This Weekend Are Complete

The plans for the annual Camporee of the Warren County Council, Boy Scouts of America, to be held at the Jeffers Camp, Friday and Saturday, June 8 and 9, are now completed. It was learned this morning from C. W. Barwis and J. Clifford Johnson, directors of this year's annual event.

A "training" meeting of the Camporee Staff members was held recently. The men selected to serve in the key leadership positions are as follows: R. L. Endress, registrar and in charge of the camp headquarters service; E. Garvin, chairman of the physical arrangements; H. L. Blair, chairman of the Court of Honor program; William M. Smith and Marshall Johnson, "chefs" to prepare meals for the camporee staff; and C. C. Winans, chairman of the Counselor Staff.

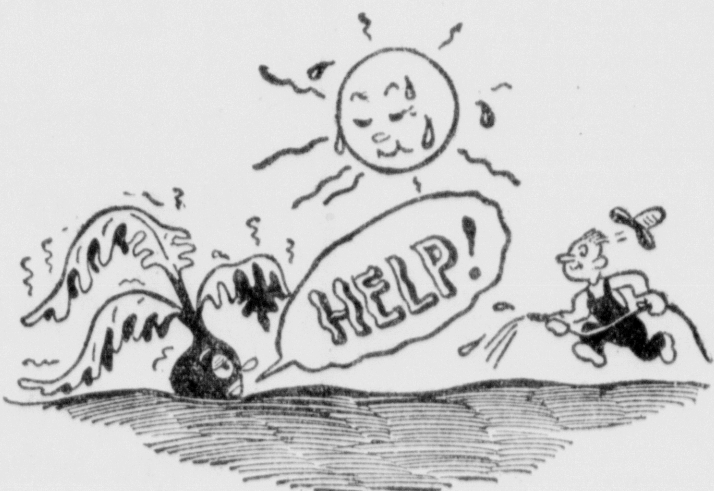

The Counselor Staff, under Mr. Winans' leadership will include: J. E. Hazeltine, Jr., H. L. Blair, C. A. Babcock, T. R. Sponsler, H. L. Banghart, C. R. Rogers, O. C. Tritt, G. M. Sanford, Ed. Bimber. According to the Camporee plan of organization the Troops that will participate will come to the camporee under their own adult leadership, preparing their own Troop Camp sites, preparing their own meals, pitching tents, etc., just as they would on a Troop overnight camp. The emphasis within the Troop Camp will be the complete operation of the Patrol Method—groups of 6 to 8 Scouts, and are the operating units within the troop's organization. The objective being that of having the Patrol, under its boy Patrol Leader, carry out the necessary camping operations of a successful camp, as well as the program of the Camporee.

Troop entry blanks are still coming into the Scout Office, and according to C. W. Barwis and J. Clifford Johnson, it is expected that this year's Camporee will surpass last year's event in attendance and program content.

With Juniors at Beatty

The Committee on Community Recreation, in cooperation with the Community P.T.A. Council, closed its series of community youth parties with a hundering for grade-schoolers at the Beatty gym. About 200 older students created a problem when they stopped by after the Bondwagon Rally and sought admittance, despite the fact that the last party for teenagers was held in late May.

Bill Erickson proved a competent party chairman for the grade school party and Beatty young people, chairmen and committee members, showed a fine spirit of cooperation in their effective working out of arrangements. The decorating committee had used a Mexican motif for its cabaret, giving a real festive atmosphere to the gym.

Dale Soderburg's Orchestra started playing for dancing at nine o'clock and both game rooms opened at the same hour, the time having been delayed to allow the boys and girls opportunity of attending the KDKA show at Beatty field earlier.

Floor show numbers were presented with a finished air that brought rounds of applause. Ronnie Schwartz made his second appearance as a community party emcee, introducing five numbers: The Four Serenaders; Mary Alice Morse in a military toe dance; Judson Hetrick in a comedy routine; Kay Gruttaria and Nonie Finley in two vocal selections, and Marilyn Dobbs in a new acrobatic tap.

The senior party committee furnished a supervisor for each of the committees operating for the party, with over 700 being entertained and 175 assisting with the details.

Lee Ellis' cleanup group deserves special mention for establishing a new community party record. Helping on this important committee were Jim McKenzie, Helen Mathver, Dick Betts, Sally Mooney, Flora Ann Saylor, Randy White, Mary Ann Hofund, Mildred Kirberger, Jack Dayle, Clarence Heald, Warren Lowe, Rita Scrivano, Charles Cochener, Elsie Walker, Mike D'Angelo, Nick Mangus, Ray Nichols, Clare Anderson, Marie Vingre, Rose Amacher, Guy Bearfield, Jim Johnson, Harry Danielson, Delbert Colter, Gretchen Radspinner, Margaret Mathver and Jack Queller.

It is indicated that announcement will be made soon concerning a summer series of parties.

Lottsville 4-H Club Enjoyed Good Meeting

Monday evening the Lottsville 4-H Club held a most interesting and instructive meeting. Carl Spelling, Jr., presided at the gathering which was well attended by interested young people.

The 4-H Club members have some ambitious plans for the season and these were discussed. According to the discussions there will be extensive garden projects under way and a pig and calf club will be formed. These activities will be carried on under direct supervision and should be most successful.

Girls of the group will form a Home Economics Club and make up various features of the work which will give them many valuable results.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott who are giving much valuable time to the 4-H Club work were present at the meeting.

Following the meeting games were enjoyed. These were directed by Grant Spelling and when the hour of adjournment arrived all were loath to leave for home as such a fine evening had been enjoyed.

so far, has been a keen disappointment in the way of weather with chilly days and really cold nights. Yesterday overcoats and fur coats were noted on the streets while from the windows glared figures clad in scant bathing suits and tropical wear. They seemingly had a glare in their eyes as the bundled up folks hurried past.

Victory Gardens and farmers have been loud in complaints that the earth has been too wet for planting and working of crops. The loss to the truck farmers has already been heavy and promises to become greater if frosts have hit early plantings as hard as has been anticipated. Fruits and berries have been damaged.

Last night was another of the cold, dreary evenings and the mercury slanted down until this morning at many places it stood at from 31 to 34. The heavy fog that covered the valleys is thought to have averted damage from frost but on the higher hills reports have come in that frost was noted.

The weather forecast for Thursday is "cloudy and continued cool with occasional rain".

Letters to the Editor

June 5, '45.

Dear Mr. Editor:—
I have read your article "German people to blame" and I believe that Miss Sizer knows what she is talking about as she has seen some of the horrors of the German prison camps and German atrocities.

Regarding Matilda Rumohr's answer, I would suggest that she consider who started the war, and who was responsible for the many thousands of people that were killed in England by the robot bombs as well as all the bombs dropped from airplanes. What about the German atrocities in Poland which beggars description and about the inhuman treatment of other conquered countries, such as Holland, Denmark, Norway and others, and the towns wiped out in their drive to Stalingrad.

Should the Allies permit them to continue their war of cruelty and destruction of women and children and their homes? It was necessary to bring them into subjection and make them surrender and cause them to cease their awful warfare, and to do this it was necessary for the Allies to do what they did but they did not resort to inhuman cruelties after cities and towns were captured.

If Mrs. Matilda Rumohr and others like her believe that Germany got more than its share of destruction, it might be well for them to go back to Germany and help in their work of reconstruction.
A. M. Kofod.

Community Canning Center Plans Mature to Handle Crops

Chairman P. C. Ostergard, recently appointed by County Chairman Allen Gibson to handle the Community Canning Project in Warren has finally succeeded in securing a most admirable spot for the canning center. Through the generosity of Donald Smith the big Buick salesroom has been secured. In it will be installed the huge retorts in which vegetables and fruits can be processed ready for the cans. There will also be plenty of room for the tables and other equipment necessary for the preparing of the material to be canned. There will be four big retorts each capable of handling 33 quarts at a filling and can be operated in a most economical manner. Tin cans will be at the center ready to sell at cost to those canning fruits and vegetables and there will be can sealers and other equipment for use of the workers. It is expected to be ready by July 1st so that first fruits of the Victory gardens can be handled.

Mr. Ostergard has appointed a most capable committee to assist him in the handling of the food situation outlook all who possibly can do so are urged to plan on putting into their storage places quantities of canned goods, vegetables, fruits and meats. An increase in the number and size of home gardens is urged and all members of the family are asked to help with the food preservation and men are especially asked to help their wives and mothers. The Center is also expected to popularize food preservation which this coming winter will have a large part in averting food shortages in this county.

There are many advantages to those who for the first time handle their products and put them in cans. Mr. Ostergard enumerates some of them as follows:

1. Teachers are on hand to give instruction in processing to large number of patrons.

2. Patrons learn canning by canning their own products.

3. Patrons exchange information on how to produce better crops.

4. They learn to know higher standards by comparing produce brought in for canning.

5. They learn to work with and help others.

6. They learn to plan their food production and food preservation program to meet definite nutritional needs.

7. They are taught proper canning methods, thus reducing spoilage to a minimum.

8. They are taught to buy tin cans and other supplies cooperatively.

All patrons of the center will find the community project one of benefit and some of them are as follows:

1. Save a third or more time required in canning.

2. Families are saved the expense of equipment, much of it too heavy and costly for normal use.

3. The right amount of the right kind of equipment is available.

4. Ample water and gas are available.

5. Gas and hot water controls avoid danger of burns.

6. A hot and messy job is taken out of the kitchen.

7. There are no worries about checking sealers and pressure gauges.

8. Ample supplies of tin cans are on hand.

9. Saving in time reduces spoilage loss and encourages the canning of larger quantities of food at a time.

10. Patrons can exchange produce and thus avoid shortages in specific products.

Chapter 15

KAY woke to the sound of rain lashing against the windows of the Lambert house. The room was cold. She lay in bed waiting for Liza to come and light a fire.

She sat up, hearing Eloise's high heels tapping down the hall to Lucia's room. "Eloise!" she called.

The door opened and Kay asked, "Where is Liza?"

Eloise stared at her with bold insolence. "I really can't say. It's not my day to keep up with her."

Kay was so surprised that she couldn't speak for a moment. Then she knew. Lucia was responsible for her maid's attitude.

Kay felt a hot wave of anger surge through her body as she saw the deliberate impudence in the mulatto's pale blue eyes. Yet her voice showed no anger when she said:

"Well, find out, won't you? And tell her I want my breakfast."

Eloise tossed her head and made no answer as she closed the door.

Kay stared at the wall, thinking perhaps she had dreamed the incident. Eloise, half white, with her brows arched above her insolent eyes, her perfect clipped English, impertinent to her! And in her own house! She would, and thought angrily: Do I have to stand for everything from Lucia?

SHE slipped out of bed no longer conscious of the cold. She was drawing a robe about her when a knock sounded and Lucia entered.

The older woman was beautiful in a bright satin house coat, her dark hair falling about her shoulders. "My dear," she spoke soothingly to Kay, "let me apologize for Eloise. She doesn't understand taking orders from anyone but me. If you had only asked for her services I would have been glad to lend her."

Kay flushed angrily, but she managed to keep her voice calm. "I don't have to ask you for favors, Lucia. This is my home. I have my own servants."

Lucia laughed throatily. "You mean, Eliza? I told her again yesterday not to come upstairs. She upsets Eloise."

"Listen, Lucia"—Kay's voice was sweetly warning—"did you understand me when I said that this house is mine? It doesn't belong to Francis. It belongs to me, just as Liza's belongs to her. My grandfather's will says so."

She paused, then decided to finish what she had started. "And though you have all the trees cut down and change everything here, you still can't change that will!"

Incredulous anger burned in Lucia's eyes. She looked at Kay for a long instant, then her poise returned. "You are tired, dear."

"But, no wonder, after that perfectly gorgeous party you and Francis gave for me."

She turned to the bed, smoothed the covers. "Now come back and lie down. I'll bring your breakfast upstairs myself."

Kay shook her head. Lucia's manner of trying to place her in the wrong infuriated her even more. She said icily, "I'll go down for breakfast and I want Liza here from now on."

"But, darling," Lucia protested, "are you walking over my orders?"

"Yes, I am," Kay said levelly. "If you want to put it that way."

She turned and walked swiftly into the bathroom. She saw Eloise in the hall; the girl had seen and heard everything. Under the shower Kay's anger gave way to regret. Katherine would have been so ashamed of her. For in Katherine's home no one was ever known to raise a voice in anger, to sulk or rebel.

Kay went on into the kitchen. Anna still reigned supreme there only by virtue of being a better cook than those recommended by Lucia's friends in Atlanta. Anna was scowling out the window at the rain.

KAY'S heart sank. Liza had tried to cover up Lucia's unkindness, had been unwilling for Kay to know of it, for fear she'd become angry and play into Lucia's hands. Well, Liza's efforts had been in vain.

She sipped her coffee, and looked up at Anna's frown. "What's wrong with you this morning?" she asked.

Anna's scowl deepened, and her lower lip became a fair imitation of Liza's when she was angry. "I'm gonna cut that yellow gal's heart right out of her sinking body—go help me!"

"Why, Anna?" Kay exclaimed. "Eloise stay upstairs all the time. What has she done to you?"

Anna sniffed. "She made that no-count Sam take her to a dancing place last night. They never come in till way past midnight. Sam claim she want him to learn her how to rumba!"

Kay's involuntary laughter turned to a grim smile. So the entire household had been out on a binge last night.

"I'm sure she can't dance as well as you, Anna." Kay's voice was placating. "Just let her alone. She can't give you any trouble."

Anna's face relaxed. "No'm, she can't. But I sho' can give her plenty if she don't let Sam alone!"

KAY turned the collar of her raincoat high above her bright hair and ran across the drenched back yard to the garage. Driving slowly down Lambert Avenue, the rain plastered wet leaves on the windshield. The argument she'd had with Lucia had left her shamed and feeling sick with shame.

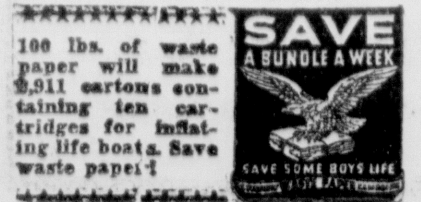

Jerry answered the bell at Dr. Sims' bungalow. "Dr. Sims—he in de bed," he volunteered.

"I'll go back there, Jerry," she answered, giving him her wet coat.

"Yassum."

Kay summoned a smile before she entered the doctor's bedroom. Her throat tightened as she remembered that she had never been back here before, probably no one in Lowell had. He was never here. He was always in someone else's room, lending his courage and sympathy.

Forgers Meet St. Joseph's DuBois Nine Wallop First Thursday Nite Baptists, 23-10

Tomorrow night at the State Hospital Manager Emory Morrison's 1945 edition of the National Forge baseball team will try to restate itself in the local baseball world.

To date, the Forgers have lost three of their five engagements, not due to poor playing but to a bad start. The poor weather conditions have hindered practice sessions and have held the players down somewhat.

Tomorrow night's game starts at 6:15, with either Dick Hines or "Ginny" Freeborough on the mound for the locals. The same lineup will start Thursday as has in the past three games. Rosequist catching, John Hawk at first, Natale at second, Emory Morrison at short, "Red" Fehlman at third, and McKinney, Geigerich, and Creola in the outfield.

The Forgers' hitting power has not been low in the first five games, but inability to score runs prevented the Irvineites from tallying sufficient runs. It is likely that Freddie Gallagher may see more action to morrow night, for his pinch-hitting in the previous games has strengthened the lineup extensively.

The Forge plays its seventh season battle Sunday afternoon at Otter Creek, when they meet the Willie Cochran All-Stars from Pittsburgh.

By JACK HAND

Even a $500 fine couldn't pull Bill Voiselle out of his losing streak as the New York Giants are still sliding downhill today toward the surging Pittsburgh Pirates.

Voiselle didn't lose the game last night to Brooklyn, 6-3, in the 14th but he did hit a wild streak with two out in the last of the ninth to load the bases. Then he dished up a pitch that pinch hitter Ben Chapman nicked for a game-winning single.

Ace Adams was the eventual loser in the fifth overtime frame when Bill Holt's single followed by Ed Stanky's double broke the 5-3 tie. Goody Rosen then put it on ice with a two-run homer.

But it was Voiselle who took most of the blame in his first appearance since Manager Mel Ott tagged him with the big time because of one bad pitch in a 4-3 defeat at St. Louis. The husky right-hander had a four-hit game in his mitt when Howie Schultz beat out a scratch single in the ninth. Passes to Clyde Sukeforth and pinch hitter Bill Hart set the stage for Chapman's blow.

Pittsburgh moved up a half game to within three lengths of the pacesetters by an even break with the Cincinnati Reds, losing the opener 4-0 to Ed Houser but cooling off the Redlegs' 9-game win streak in the finale, 9-1, behind Max Butcher.

Both the Boston-Phillies twilight-night doubleheader and the afterdark tilt in St. Louis with the Chicago Cubs were rained out as was the Philadelphia-Boston Red Sox game in the American.

The New York Yankees had to be satisfied with a split in Washington but picked up a half game on the Detroit Tigers who were shut out by Cleveland's army-bound Red Embree, 9-0. Joe McCarthy's gang now leads by 2½ games.

Atley Donald exercised his old magic on the Senators for a 12-3 landslide in the first tilt, helped by Nick Etten's four RBIs.

Pint-sized Marino Pieretti stopped the leaders in the nightcap, 7-3, coasting home on a five-run first inning that routed Floyd Bevens.

The day's pitching honors went to the veteran Al Hollingsworth who tossed a three-hitter for the St. Louis Browns against Chicago, 2-1. It was Joe Schultz' ninth-inning pinch single scoring George McQuinn that broke up a fine duel with Joe Haynes.

Embree showed his best form of the season in racking up his fourth triumph with a six-hit job on Detroit. Les Mueller, who broke into the headlines with a whitewash job against the Yanks last Thursday, was belted out early as the Tribe helped themselves to 10 hits in giving Embree a urologing send-off. The young right-hander will be inducted into the armed forces Monday at Glendale, Calif.

Stray Leaves From Notebook Of Reporter About Town

We had a note the other day from Tony Smith, of Kane, son of G. Scott Smith publisher of the Kane Republican. Tony is a combat correspondent with the U. S. Leathernecks and passed through the hell of Iwo Jima. He had a number of close calls but emerged after being knocked for a loop for a time he shook it off like all good newsmen do. He is now in Hawaii and is probably having a restful period there. He is entitled to it. Tony recently collaborated on an article in Colliers with other correspondents and his story made darned good reading. Hope he threatens to write a book when he gets back or maybe 't would be better to sit down with him along with something long and cool and hear a real first hand story of real thrills . . . Jerry Rigley, who for years pranced back of a bar in Warren and also operated various restaurants, is now confined to his home. Jerry's legs are not too good and he doesn't get out like he used to do. Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. George Muir who last night celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. One fine feature was the presence of Mr. Muir's father, W. W. Muir who at 94 is hale and hearty and who last week came up from Florida . . .

Saw a little hand bill yesterday which purported to advertise a baseball party "up the creek" staged by the Senators Club. Remember them. Composed of well known of well known men of the town they had quarters over the grocery of J. E. Blair for many years. The line-up of the two teams one labelled "The Dirty Stockings" and the other "The Senators" the following names were noted: Alfred Hertz, Frank Falconer, Porter Walker, Tom Bright, Bill Jaynes, Eugene Keller, Ralph Cousins, William Rowland, Charles Knabb, Jack Masterson and Charles Schlehuber. Only two of the men named are still alive, Alfred Hertz and Tom Bright. It was a merry crew and they enjoyed life . . . And who doesn't remember Maybank and Jaynes tobacco store? George Maybank, who hailed from Merrie England and Bill Jaynes, who was a son of the Old Sod. They got along swell despite the traditional animosity between the English andwares in the sample room of which Irish. T was a great place for the debating society to meet . . .

Fifty years ago Pawnee Bill and his aggregation of Old Scouts and Indians showed in Warren on June 3. The show was a big one and traveled on special train carrying hundreds of horses and other live stock. And low and behold the advertised price was "25 cents, half price for children". What a change! . . . Met Jack Stone the other morning perigrinating up the street and it recalled when we were let loose from school one year and Dude Grindley and Jack Stone united their voices in a "When the blackbird and the choice little ditty, something about robin." Bet Jack can finish the darned thing today, if you ask him . . . Have you ever thought how few boys there are in Warren who were able to carry on the business their Dad's founded and operated in a most successful way? Something to think about. You can count 'em on one hand . . . Couple of fur coats noted on the street yesterday. Not a bad idea either when the kids are wearing mittens while they ride their bikes . . .

What a hue and cry used to arise when the passenger trains pulled into the station. How the cobbies would sing out "bus of rapture!" and grab your satchel almost out of your hand. Gosh we remember once coming from Grandpaps farm with a satchel full of cucumbers and such and one cannie grabbed it when the darned thing came open spilling green sassa all over the platform. Glory be was mother mortified? . . . And how Perry Scott could juggle one of the big trunks the travelling men used to bring to town and display their every hotel had a number . . . Before the era of automobiles the train was the only mode of travel and reported used to make the trains asking of all "whither bound?" . . . Up at Council meeting Monday evening we recalled how Bill Weed when borough clerk used to write out the minutes after the meeting and hand a copy to the newspapers bright and early the next day . . . And say haven't we missed the ready smile of Mrs. Hagberg at the city clerk's office. Here's hoping she gets back on duty as soon as possible . . .

Remember when D. Shear Dry Goods store was located up where Ray Bimber and J. A. Johnson held forth? It was a favorite shopping place with Warren women and was really a busy store . . . And Charley Northrup's Shoe store, next to the Fehlmann Grocery. Quite an exclusive shoe store handling some such advertised shoes . . . Today is one year after D-Day and what a thrill that was when the boys landed on the continent . . . Remember Andy Ruhlman? For years he supplied Warren folk with green goods and his displays were highly attractive. Most of his products were home grown and carefully trimmed . . . Guards up on Bull Hill had some pictures and entertainment last night, thanks to the USO. And they had home made cookies, too . . . Walt Kiser, secretary of the Moose Lodge is a quiet sort of bird but look out for him now. His brother T/S Almond Kiser, over in Europe with the 101st Airborne Division was dropped down at Berchtesgarden and grabbed off a few souvenirs which he sent to Walt. There is an iron cross, a deadly looking dagger, a bayonet, letter opener and other things. Walt had 'em

Pete Lello, a fairly tough welterweight, in his first battle since the champion's discharge from the navy. The contest only lasted a minute and 12 seconds more than a round, but Cochran showed his old aggressiveness and hitting ability, and his timing and accuracy in hitting were as good as ever.

When looking ahead at Joe Massa's 1945-6 basketball prospects, they look exceptionally good. The mentor, who will be in only his second year as the top court man at the High School, expects his '45 edition to stay in there a long way. And it should, for it has one of the nicest bunch of basketballers it could ask for. Next season's team will break all previous height records. Among the big boys who will be out there are Jack Eaton, 6'4", Al Babcock, 6'3", and Ray Reed, 6'2". Also there will be Neil Simmons, who towers at 6'2" and will be there only one semester, Massa has a lot of smaller fellows, too, Jim Scalise and Red Wollaston are back for a full year, and Vincent Gray has a half year.

Had a chat last night with one of the community's most enthusiastic outdoor sportsmen, Clyde Hansen. Clyde is one of the most enthusiastic trappers and hunters in the section, and showed last night some of the results of his work. He specialized in fox hunting, beaver trapping, and general outdoors activities.
